HAIR Possesses a vitality of its own that often outlives the rest of the physical organism. More frequently, however, either through disease, inherent weakness, or age, it falls off, turns gray, or fales early. Ayer's Hair Vigor Cures the diseases of the scalp and hair; strengthens hair that is naturally weak; nourishes and invigorates torpid hair roots, causing a new, vigorous, and luxuriant growth of hair on baid heads; and restores pristine freshness, color, and lustre to faded and gray hair.

THE British barque Chandernagor, while proceeding to Canton in tow of a steam launch, went ashore on Machow spit, probably during the heavy squall which occurred this morning. It was expected that she would get off at high water. The Hongkong, Canton and Macao Steamboat Co.'s steamer White Cloud passed the Chanderndgor about a quarter past eight, Captain Goggin being asked to send up two launches to assist in getting the barque off. WE would draw our readers' attention to the concert which is to be given in the Theatre Royal to morrow evening for the benefit of the funds of the Temperance Hall. From the programme, published in another column, it will be seen that songs' and duets are to be rendered by most of the ladies and gentlemen who made themselves favourites at the Temperance Hall, and also by one or two other gentlemen amateurs. The programme is varied and promises to provide a pleasant evening's entertainment, and not the least entertaining part will probably be the performances of the Band of the 'Buffe,' under the experienced leadership of Bandmaster Kelly. Mrs Gritton, the lady who made herself so popular at the concerts in the Temperance Hall, will accompany the singers, and also sing It was a Dream Altogether the entertainment should prove highly pleasing and deserves success,

It may not be fraudulent to sell provisions of inferior quality, etc., at a low price; but it ought to be made a necessity that a fuller and closer inspection be made of the food sold. That is a want in Hongkong which ought to be seen to.

Now that the Redistribution Bill has passed the House of Commons, that august body | THE Straits Times gives an extraordinary has dready begun to consider its own dissolution. We do not exactly comprehend stantial evidence which has just been why a special Bill is necessary to enable Parliament to dissolve itself, as a dissolution is usually announced by Royal proclamation, and necessarily follows every material extension of the franchise. The Reform Bill of 1884 comes into force on the 1st of January 1836, and the additional two millions foul play. The introduction of the Bill providing for a dissolution being fixed for November next, the actual dissolution will probably take place about Christmas; and the month of January will therefore be a busy time at Home, when all the lively accompaniments of a general election will doubtless be fully represented. The chief point of interest to residents in Hongkong will, of course, be what kind of Cabinet will be most likely to represent the views of the new Parliament; and for that information we must wait.

AFTEE much discussion, the authorities of San Francisco have opened a school for the education in English of Chinese children. In one or two instances, recently Chinese have endeavoured to force their children into schools for the education of white children, and the attempt has met with most decided opposition, the dispute being taken before the Courts for settlement. The Courts, of course, declared in favour of the Chinese. At this point, the Board of Education came to the front and rescued the white schools from an invasion of the heathen children, much to the relief of many horrified parents and teachers. They provided a school-specially set apart for the education of Chinese children in English, and the Chinese who fought against the expulsion of their children from the white schools have refrained from insisting on what the Courts have declared to be their rights. A great deal of animosity and bitterness has been engendered by the dispute, and probably the Chinese by with-On the opening morning, says a San Francisco contemporary, seventeen desks, one blackboard, several charts, a table strewn th slate, lead and chalk pencils, a huge bottle of ink and different-sized copy-books, a chair and a schoolmistress, one Chinese boy and one Chinese girl, composed the paraphernalia of the new Chinese school. THE fact that the Mchican, the new war vessel now fitting out at Mare Island Navy Yard, is six inches wider on one side than the other was recently discovered by the riggers in preparing to set up the rigging. The cause of this disparity, it is presumed, was that the frame of the ressel was so long on the stocks some ten years that followingminute:-Referring to the despatch it settled imperceptibly on one side, a portion of the ground on which the keel blocks and supporting timbers rested being made ground.

In a recent number of the New York Herald, the following reference is made to the hardship entailed by an order issued in 1883 affecting the wives of officers in the U.S. Navy:

An appeal will be made to Secretary Whitney to revoke the order issued by him -lately, detaching Chief Engineer Trilley .-Lient. The Hon. P. Ryrie said :- I think we are giving the French mail steamers very great privileges by this ordinance. I am not aware whether or not we can obtain it by law, in any way, but I certainly think some assurance should be given that the French men-of-war will not interfere with vessels carrying Her Brittanic Majesty's mails. THE FIELD PRACTICE AT

KOWLOON. The field firing which took place yesterday afternoon at Kowloon was not, and could not be expected to be, so interesting a spectacle to the public generally as the sham fight which took place a week ago. The exercise was, however, no doubt of great value to the men-both of the Voluntee Artillery and the Buffs, but it is a question whether the benefit derived was in proportion to the inconvenience caused in the district which was the scene of the opera-

The natives of the village of To-Pa-tsai and other hamlets situated on the battlefield, were induced for the afternoon to shut up their houses and retreat to the hill tops, where tea and other refreshments were provided for them at Government expense. By 4 p.m. the battlefield was deserted by all its inhabitants; even the cattle and buffaloes of the villagers having been driven into some quiet nooks 'secure from war's alarms.' An exhibition of Colonial Wines will be from Peking, on the 3rd instant, as fol-The reports which there been current as to the probable appointment of Sir Robert Hart to the post of British Minister in Peking have been too persistent not to have some foundation. It would be a departure from the traditions of the English diplomatic service, but the selection of Sir Robert Hart has so very much to recommend it that the exceptional course would be more than justified. It is said that the delay in accepting the offer is due to Sir Robert's negotiations with the Tsung-li Yamen respecting his successor. That he has been carefully preparing his younger brother for this for years past, has, of course, been obvious to us all, and if the Inspector General were to retire from the service there would be no particular objection to the founding of a Hart dynasty in the Customs Service, while if the future incumbents of the office were only half as efficient as the head of the family China would certainly not be the loser. But it is a different matter entirely when it is the Brito hold an exhibition in London in the year i tish Minister who would thus retain conthis Commission, His Royal Highness the 1886 of the products, manufactures and trol over the Customs, and the idea is so eminently practical man as the Inspector General must be acquitted of ever having entertained it. In the simple transfer of a high official supposed to be possessed of the secrets of the Chinese Government to the service of a foreign Government, in the very place where the knowledge of such secrets. may place the country he has been serving at a diplomatic disadvantage, is already risking a good deal; but for one individual to be British Minister and at the same time the most important revenue officer in China would be to attempt the impossible. If the protest against a colleague being given such advantages over them, or would find working of a machine which would be constantly grating on their nerves. And if both Chinese and foreign Governments approved, then the Minister-elect himself would liesitate to make such a bed of thorns and prepare such a heavy failure as the The Commission confidently rely upon the dual offices would certainly be for him. The hypothesis that it is the succession to the Inspectorate-General that causes Sir Robert Hart to delay acceptance of the office reported to have been offered to him may therefore be dismissed. But there are many other matters which may very well require adjustment before such an Chinese Ministers may very well-want to know whether as British Minister Sir Robert Hart would be their servant or their master. Sir Thomas Wade might like to come out to Peking for a month to destroy the records of the Legation, or at least sea them up during the incumbercy of the man of whom he did not uniformly write in terms of fulsome compliment. Although. therefore, there may be delay in the official announcement of the return of the Ins-

THE CHINA REVIEW.

PUBLISHED BI-MONTHLY TENTH YEAR

THIS Review, which was intended to meet L the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuance of ' Notes and Queries on China and Japan,' has reached its Thirteenth Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are uppermost in the minds of students of the 'Far East' and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It in cludes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc. of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new de parture has been taken, and the Review now gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Review in this direction, the Magazine would be mademore generall

The Review department receives specia attention, and endeavours are made to present a careful and concise record of Literature on China etc., and to give critiques embodying sketches of the Most recent works on such topics. Authors and Publishers are requested to forward works to Editor, China Review, care of China

Amongst the regular contributors are Drs. Chalmers Eitel, Bretschueider, Hirth, and Hanco, Professor Legge, and Messrs Balfour, Watters Stent, Phillips, MacIntyre, Groot, Jamie son, Fabor, Kopsch, Parker, Playfair Giles, and Piton, all well-known names indicative of sound scholarship and thorough mastery of their subject.

Orthions of the Press. All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising Review.'-Northern Christian Advocate (U.S.) 'The China Review * * * * has an excellent table of contents.' - Celestial Empire. "The Publication always contains subjects of interest to sojourners in the Far East and the present issue will hold favourable if not advantageous comparison, with preceding numbers. - Celestial Empire.

'This number contains several articles of interest and value. '-North-China Herald, 'The China Review for September-October fully maintains the high standard of excellence which characterises that publi-'ation, and altogether forms a very interesting and readable number. teorologists will find an interesting and valuable contribution by Dr. Fritsche. on "the Amount of Precipitation (Rain and SUEZ CANAL, on THURSDAY, the and Snow) of Peking," showing the results of observations made at the Imperial Russian Observatory at Peking, from 1841 to 1880. "Notes on the Dutch Occupation Parcels and Specie (Gold) at the Office of Formosa," by Mr. Geo. Daily News. A substantial and reliable Review which all students of China and the Chinese would do well to patronise.'-Chrysanthemum. · The November-Décember number of the China Review contains less variety than usual, but the few articles are very interest ting. Parker's "Short Journeys in Szechuen" are continued, and a goodly instalment of these travels in the interior of China is given. Mr F. H. Balfour contributes a paper of some length entitled " The Emperor Cheng, founder of the Chinese Empire," which will be read with genuine interest by students of Chinese history.

A few short notices of New Books and a number of Notes and Queries, one of which

"On Chinese Oaths in Western Borneo and Java" might appropriately have been placed under a separate heading, complete the number, '-H.K. Daily Press.

Trubner's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review :-The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, some what similar to that which has been tilled in India by the Calculta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked or from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated. and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors . . . Some translations from Chinese riovels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese peet-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that 'Notes' and 'Queries' are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its predecessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to insure
